Age: 46

Occupation: Technical Support Rep, Iron worker

Residence: Kearns

Years at residence: 40+

Qualifications: I am a "Jack" of most trades. I am a professional, Technical Support Specialist, Journeyman Iron Worker, Sous-Chef, UH-1H Helicopter mechanic, etc. I need to continue learning and expanding my horizons. The best way to learn is to teach. I have taught many classes in the Army, many people and kids, I used to be a Scout Master. You must know how before you can teach the kids. I did not get to be a Journeyman/Professional by giving up. I am very adept at Learning and following instructions and leading. Like they say "Lead, Follow, or Get out of the way. I have been trained to do that; as a result it is a "second nature" for me.

Being a "jack" of most trades gives me an advantage over most people. I get the task started and completed, and share in the acknowledgment of all those that helped.

I am happy being unnoticed, and I also bask in the warm glow of the lime light. Yes, it may sound like an oxymoron in the area of likes and dislikes, nevertheless I do extremely well at both.

I like the Team approach and attitude. No one person can do it all.
